

The Complete Online Booking Management System for Rooms and Venues

Product sheet

Our comprehensive system is designed to provide everything needed to manage bookings for rooms and venues. Simple to run for council or contact centre staff, and easy to use for the public, it is a complete solution for booking rooms and other facilities at specific venues or buildings.

The Zipporah system gives you

- Comprehensive booking process for staff and customers

- Our state-of-the-art solution enables users to book all requirements at the same time - including catering and room layout. It makes booking easy and ensures the event or meeting runs smoothly

- Access controls and restrictions

- Our system facilitates effective management because it includes advanced functionality, defining room dependency and restricting access to bookings. This means back office staff are in control, even though contact centre and public users can access and request bookings

- Intelligent venue selection

- The search facility enables users to enter specific details - number of attendees, catering and facilities required - and the system will match the request with the 'best fit' available

- Central data repository

- Our system means increased efficiency because back office staff and contact centre users have real time access to the same information. This communications exchange enables them to give immediate advice and booking confirmation.

- There is 24/7 availability, with all booking data managed in one accessible system. No more lost booking information or excessive paper-based requests!

- Easy payment administration and integration with existing systems

- Our sophisticated functionality provides a variety of payment processing methods - invoices, cash/cheque and online payments

- Our state-of-the art technology allows easy, seamless integration with existing finance and other software

- Easy use

- Our web-based module is simple for everyone to use. It is also flexible - users can create calendars, data-capture forms and workflow plans

- Comprehensive reporting

- Our system includes a fully integrated, automated suite of reports, providing you with all the statistical information you need to report on bookings

- Quick and easy installation

- The system can be introduced in stages, allowing you to maintain control

Our system will streamline and enhance the way in which you run your rooms and venues, thus improving the service you offer the public. We work closely with you, discussing your council's specific requirements so you get exactly the system you need and one which will work for you.
